Dramatic Recital To Be Given Here

On Friday evening, June 16, at Arts and Crafts Hall, Walter Butler O'Connell, A. M., will give a dramatic reading under the patronage of the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts.

Mr. O'Connell is well known in Carmel literary circles, as he spent much time here some years ago, and took active part in dramatic work.

His readings are entirely from memory.

A letter of the late Mrs. Lovell White, President Emeritus of the California Club, says:

"Mr. O'Connell is dignified in manner, graceful in gesture, and his range of voice is seemingly unlimited. He recites and impersonates, yet his keynote is simplicity."

The Rev. Lynn P. White, Minister of the Presbyterian Church at San Rafael, says:

"Recently I heard Mr. O'Connell's recital, and I wish to say that his work reveals seriousness of purpose in its selections, marked conscientiousness in its preparation, and intelligence in its interpretation."

WEEKLY GREETING

When you meet a grouch on the street, smile at him; if you meet him in church, sing to him; when he is home, feed him; if he creeps into heaven—but he wont.

The Finish

A town that never has anything to do in a public way is on the way to the grave-yard. Any person who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig the grave. A man that curses the town furnishes the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time from his business to give to affairs of his town is making the shroud. The man who fails to advertise in the local paper is driving the hearse. The man who is always pulling back from public enterprises casts flowers on the grave. The man whose stinginess prompts him to howl about hard times preaches the sermon, and the man who spends every night at home sings the anthem.

Markham's Apt Tribute

The California poet, Edwin Markham, prefaced his recent tribute to the dean of dramatic critics, William Winter, with a passage from "As You Like It"—"A lusty winter, frosty but kindly."

"Modernist" playwrights and commercialist theatrical managers who have felt the lash of the eminent censor will not agree with the poet in thinking of Mr. Winter as "kindly," but even they will admit that Markham knows how to quote. A well-known writer suggested the correct method when he said that the borrowed words should be worked into the original utterances as flowers are woven into the web of damask.

The Firemen's ball will be the social event of the season in Carmel. Tickets should be procured now. June 24 is the date.

Graduating Exercises Interesting

In the presence of County Superintendent Schultzberg, the local board of school trustees and parents and friends the graduating exercises of Sunset School were held last Wednesday morning.

All the grades went through some form of entertainment—singing, dancing and drama—and after the presentation of diplomas, Mr. Schultzberg, to the great delight of the teachers and pupils, standardized the school.

On Thursday evening the graduating class was host to a large number of townspeople with a delightful affair.

During the evening, class prophecies were read, as follows:

Louis Narvaez
A lad with a strong constitution,
Louis Narvaez will make contribution
To the world of things that are useful,
And thereby remain ever youthful.

Miriam Arnold White
White may be black, and black may be white,
But the white I am telling about
Is Miriam White, who with all of her might
Is preparing to boss kids about.

Kenneth Ward
To tell of his many big dreams,
To write would require many reams,
Kenneth Ward, the big fellow,
Who has not the streak yellow,
Will round the world go selling beans.

Aldine Anthony
Down through the ages Mark Anthony stalks,
Amazing the world with his wonderful talks.
Aldine his descendant in Carmel here,
Will be a home maker, and fill it with cheer.

Inez Fraties
The mirror of life upholding
The wonders of nature unfolding,
The class of Sixteen
Inez Fraties a queen,
Her path for the stage has been moulding.

Gwendolen Adams
With music she'll charm many people,
Like the chimes of the ancient church steeple;
Gwendolen Adams with purpose unflinching,
Learns to teach what she knows
With a method convincing.

Gertrude Gates
For dark Gertrude Gates,
Let us see what the fates
Have in store for a girl with ambition;
She'll be a trained nurse.
Often lending her purse;
Thus amply fulfilling her mission.

Rehearsals Under Way —Fine Music

Rehearsals are now in progress for two of Carmel's dramatic offerings to be presented early next month. Almost the entire cast has been selected for "Yolanda of Cyprus" and "The Piper," both to be put on by the Forest Theatre Society.

Those who have read "Yolanda" pronounce it a brilliant bit of work, full of romance and action. The distinctive Italian setting is something new in Carmel, and the climaxes are splendid.

After reading Robert Browning's poem, one is amazed at the breadth of vision and the dramatic instinct displayed by Josephine Preston Peabody, who adapted the poem for the stage. With no disrespect for the poet, it may be said that the playwright makes the poet look small.

Frederick P. Search is at work on original music for the production of "Yolanda" and will also conduct the orchestra for "The Piper." He is desirous of augmenting his orchestra with volunteer musicians. Those desiring to play will see Mr. Search.

The "Dry" Campaign

Mrs. M. E. White contributes the following:

"Have a grand holiday, forget dull care on June 17, and join Pacific Grove, Monterey and Seaside in a fine basket picnic at the Bathhouse, and hear state speakers on the Dry Campaign" is the message the busiest men and women in Carmel are requested to pass on to the next busiest, until all Carmel hears and catches the spirit of the day.

Baseball News

By Dad Hamilton

Monterey team now leads the Mission League.

The Barracudas invaded the Haymaker's field on Sunday and came away with a 3 to 1 victory. The Monterey battery was gilt-edged, and Bernie Mennulu's slugging drove in the winning runs. "Young" Noack gets faster as the season progresses.

Booth's Sardines allowed Santa Cruz to hand them a 7 to 1 beating. The former are still in the game though and promise to reverse the verdict the next time they go against the "Beachcombers.

San Jose wolloped Salinas, 9 to 2.

If Dave von Needa had only remained at home and read his Sunday paper instead of trying to emulate Cap. Noack, the "Sandfleas" of Carmel would not have suffered a 14 to 2 spanking at the hands of the Valley "Woodticks." Dave was out for a record and he certainly made it. To win, the Carmel team must cut out the stars and substitute therefore team work. Little Manuel will play in von Needa's place hereafter.

Julius Wolters will be playing ball for Connie Mack if he keeps up his present gait.

Mass Meetng Called To Discuss Carmel's Water Supply

Carmel, with an assessed property valuation of $380,000, is without sufficient fire-protection.

True, we have two good chemical engines, which on several occasions have proved their worth for small fires when put into immediate use. We also have a first-class legally organized fire-fighting force of over forty men. These are good but not adequate. We have also a Board of Fire Commissioners.

For several years, knowing of the lack of a sufficient water supply and realizing the ever-present danger of a devastating conflagration, the people of Carmel have been very patient. Every effort heretofore made to secure a better water service has resulted in nothing but promises and excuses. Two Boards of Fire Commissioners have gone out of office because of failure to induce the water corporation to provide sufficient water. The present board is up against the same thing.

To exact some definite action from the water concern—either a point blank refusal to do something or assurances of an adequate and permanent service, the Carmel Fire Department at its meeting last Wednesday evening decided to put the matter up to the whole community.

To that end a mass meeting will be held on Friday evening of this week at Curtis Park on Ocean avenue. Every resident should attend. Speakers familiar with the subject will address the meeting, and it may be that some plan, through the Railroad Commission or otherwise, will develop which will safeguard us against fire.
